

I had a dream last night where we were meeting with Yoko Ono about getting separate vocal and instrumental tracks of Beatles songs for mash-up purposes. However, she was ambivalent about helping us because we weren't so interested in getting separates of her music.