

Ever wanted to try your hand playing our instruments like the Thimbletron or the VidiMasher 3000? Here's your chance!

This Saturday TradeMark and Frilly will show off the Evolution Control Committee's arsenal of secret weaponry

for the

Connector Series

at the Columbus Museum of Art. We're honored that the CMA Center For Creativity picked us for the very first of the series, and we won't disappoint: for the first time ever we're inviting the general public to play with the gear with which we've performed hundreds of concerts worldwide. We'll even have brand new installations set up as well, including the

Wiimote Pillow Fight,

the

Kinect Theremin,

and (shown here) the Object Turntable.

TradeMark's Playhouse will be open this Saturday only! ☐ Don't miss it!

WHAT: The Columbus Museum Of Art and Center For Creativity present: Connector Series #1

WHEN: This Saturday afternoon, March 9th 2013, 1p-4p

WHERE: Columbus Museum Of Art , 480 East Broad Street, Columbus Ohio

HOW MUCH: Standard museum admission $12 / students $8 / free parking

Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/events/172235872924160/>

Make sure to check out the Rothko exhibit too!